

Residency Programs

Family Medicine and Internal Medicine

Choosing Trios Health for your residency training will give you all of the tools you'll need, and then some, to move forward with confidence and success in your career as a physician. Your training experience with us offers:

- Numerous clinical rotations and electives within a 15 minute commute including:

Addiction Medicine, Cardiology, Community Medicine, Endocrinology, General Surgery, Hematology & Oncology, Infectious Disease, Nephrology, Neurology, Palliative Care, Pathology, Pediatrics, Podiatry, Pulmonology, Radiology, Sleep Medicine, and Women's Health.

- Well-rounded didactic programming with opportunities to attend local conferences and clinical lectures, with training on primary care and subspecialty topics.
- Knowledgeable and committed faculty with experience teaching and training residents.
- Dedicated residency space, including a brand new hospital and outpatient residency practices.
- A competitive stipend and benefits, including wellness days and professional development funds.

Visit us online at: www.trioshealth.org/ResidencyPrograms

Family Medicine Residency Program
509-221-6327

Internal Medicine Residency Program
509-221-5965

Live, Learn, and Train in the Tri-Cities

Trios Health is located in an area known as the Tri-Cities—composed of the cities of Kennewick, Pasco and Richland—in Southeastern Washington. The Tri-Cities is positioned in the heart of Washington wine and agriculture country with:

- Over 200 wineries and breweries within a 60 minute drive
- An average of 300 days of sunshine a year, and four distinct yet relatively mild seasons
- Three major rivers that flow through the community, multiple nearby mountain ranges, and year-round outdoor recreational opportunities
- National recognition as an up-and-coming metropolitan area, an affordable place to live and an excellent place to raise a family
- Larger metropolitan areas in Spokane, Washington; Seattle, Washington; and Portland, Oregon just a few hours away by car, or a quick flight from the Tri-Cities Airport.